

Author Copyright Agreement

Author: _____

Publication Title: International Journal of Coaching in Organizations (IJCO)

Article or Chapter Title: _____

Draft Due Dates: [First Draft] _____ [Final Draft] _____

Professional Coaching Publications, Inc. (hereafter referred to as PCPI), a publisher of coaching educational and reference materials, gratefully acknowledges your contribution of practice and authorship expertise. Because authorship and publishing involve certain rights and responsibilities, we provide the following summary of PCPI publishing policy for your reference and acceptance.

The Author agrees to:

- Write a new work, or update an existing work, under the title stated. The “work” to be published includes both the text and whatever supplemental materials, including but not limited to tables, figures, forms, exhibits, illustrations and endnotes, the Author with the concurrence of PCPI deems appropriate.
- Deliver via email any required first draft and the final draft of the work to PCPI on or before the dates above.
- Follow the distinctions in the IJCO Article Manuscript Guidelines and Article Manuscript Formatting Conventions.
- Read, mark, and promptly return drafts and otherwise cooperate in expediting publication of the work.
- Provide five to eight key words or two word key word phrases for web search purposes.
- Provide contact information (phone, email, website), biographical data (including honorifics), permit PCPI to use the Author’s name and identity in its marketing materials, and otherwise cooperate in all reasonable respects with PCPI, at PCPI’s expense in promoting the work. The Author shall update the biographical information at the time that final drafts are returned to PCPI.
- Provide current mailing address.
- Optional, per Author’s choice. Provide logo and name of Author’s company, with company website URL, for promotional purposes on IJCO website, www.ijco.info. Said logo and company name, shared as finished art, shall be sized at 120 pixels by 60 pixels at 72 ppi as a .jpeg or .gif file in RGB format. It shall be sent to advertising@ijco.info no later than one week prior to issue posting date.

The Author warrants that he/she has full right, title, and interest in and to all original copyrightable expression contained in this work, and that he/she has all necessary permissions in writing from prior authors of and/or other owners of copyright in works which are used or re-used, in whole or in part or derivatively, in this work, as well as citations of others’ works as web links.

The Author will identify to PCPI those portions of his/her work which incorporate, wholly or in part or derivatively, protectable expression of others, and identify the other authors and works so used, and herewith indemnifies and holds PCPI harmless and agrees to defend PCPI from any claims of infringement of copyright, misappropriation, and the like, without limitation, that may be made against PCPI arising from its publishing Author's work. PCPI will promptly advise Author at his/her last known address of any claim made against PCPI by another arising from PCPI's publication of the work or any part thereof.

PCPI agrees to:

- Place the Author's name on the appropriate table of contents page and title page, and publicize his/her contribution in suitable promotional material.
- Give appropriate credit to the Author and to the work if PCPI uses the work or any of its contents in a subsequent publication.
- Provide two complimentary copies of the Journal Issue in which the article appears for the Author writing the article.
- Provide one complimentary electronic copy (author's version) of the author's article in .pdf format, marked as "Author's Version" and locked so it cannot be edited.
- Optional, contingent on receipt of finished art consistent with specifications and URL.
Provide one *IJCO*LogoLink™ placement on IJCO website, www.ijco.info, for three months from date that Journal Issue in which article appears is posted on IJCO website. *IJCO*LogoLink shall be hotlinked to author's website at stated URL.

The Author and PCPI mutually agree that:

- The Author is providing the work as a work for hire and acknowledges receipt of one dollar (US$1) in hand paid. Accordingly, PCPI shall own the copyright and all rights for the work or works provided hereunder.
- PCPI hereby grants Author a license to make all reasonable uses of the work or any part of the work for distribution to Author's clients and for Author's practice development and to incorporate parts of the work in the Author's other coaching publications not competitive with the work as published by PCPI, with the following qualifications:
 - The Author emails PCPI (publisher@pcpionline.com) to notify PCPI that the work is to appear in other publications. (This is a way of keeping track of the reproduction of PCPI articles in other venues and promoting such additional publications.)
 - The following statement (already added in the Author's .pdf version of the article) appears on the first page, after the Author's name and before the abstract:

<This article first appeared in the International Journal of Coaching in Organizations (20xx, Volume x (Issue x), xxx-xxx). Reprinted with permission of Professional Coaching Publications, Inc.>

- The following statement (already added in the Author's .pdf version of the article) appears at the bottom of the first page: © Copyright 20xx by PCPI. All rights reserved worldwide.
- If the work is a contribution to a compilation or journal, PCPI will own all rights including copyright in the compilation and the Author's right of use will apply only to the Author's own contribution.
- Copyright in the work will not be used to prevent practitioners from copying models, forms, and other such materials contained in the work in their own practices.
- The work is being prepared by the Author on a work for hire basis. The Author's sole compensation will be the benefits referred to in this Agreement.
- PCPI reserves the right to terminate the project, to decline to accept all or part of the manuscript, or to decide not to publish the work if circumstances indicate that the work will not meet PCPI's publishing objectives or is determined to be not economically feasible. In such cases, PCPI will promptly notify the Author.
- PCPI solely controls final editorial and administrative decisions, including style and format, print run, type, paper, binding, price, distribution, and promotion. The Author shall be solely responsible for all content of the work or of his or her contribution thereto.
- PCPI has chosen the Author on the basis of the Author's personal knowledge, experience, and reputation. The Author's obligations to PCPI are therefore not transferable, even within the Author's company (if any), without PCPI's written approval. CO-AUTHOR(S) MAY NOT BE ADDED WITHOUT NOTICE TO AND THE PRIOR WRITTEN APPROVAL OF PCPI.

I have read and agreed to the terms of this Publishing Agreement and License.
